Catch-up Friday 07 July

Dear Parents and Carers,

Federation Production - Rockin' Robin Hood (Swallows and Kingfishers)

We are all looking forward to entertaining you with our fantastic production of Rockin' Robin Hood next Tuesday and Wednesday. The children are continuing to rehearse with enthusiasm this week and we now have the stage up ready too!

To help the performances be successful for the children we really need all the children at all four performances and ask for your support with this. If, for any reason your child will not be there, please can you email the enquiries email address so that we can ensure staff are aware.

The children need to be back for 5.20pm for the evening performances. Tickets are already being issued. Please email enquiries about ticket queries as classroom staff are not involved in this.

Costumes

Please can the children in Kingfishers and Swallows bring their 'costumes' into school on Monday 10 July ready for the dress rehearsal on Tuesday 11 July.

Swallows need to wear greens and browns.
Kingfishers need to wear colourful clothes.

If your child is a principle in the production, please can they wear greens and browns, and Karl will provide any additional costumes they need. Thank you.

Homework

No further homework is being sent out this term. School reading books (scheme, free-reader and library) will be collected in the week of Monday 17 July.

Over the summer holiday, please continue to share books with your children and encourage them to read on their own too. All reading is good: story books, newspapers, magazines & comics, recipe books, instructions and much more.

Books home at the end of term.

Next week, please can you send your child in with a named plastic carrier bag (or similar)? This will be to take home their workbooks from this year. We will begin to send books home during the last week of Term.
